MSCL – Expanding our opportunities for sober housing

Hailey, Idaho: Men's Second Chance Living (MSCL House), a nonprofit in operation in Idaho's Wood River Valley since 2018, has started the Building a Better Tomorrow capital campaign to address the community's increased need for sober housing.

As substance use rates rise nationally and locally, MSCL House has seen an increased demand for safe and sober living. In 2021, the organization received 19 applications, 13 of which were put on a waitlist due to a lack of available beds. MSCL House's current residential capacity simply falls short of the community's immediate and future needs for sober homes.

For this reason, MSCL House created the Building a Better Tomorrow capital campaign to purchase a second home that would double MSCL House's existing capacity and address the increase of individuals who need a supportive recovery home. The purchase of a second house will enable MSCL House to immediately accommodate new residents and continue providing vital programs and services to men in our community.

MSCL House has already raised $657,000 (73%) of its $900,000 campaign goal. Only $243,000 is needed to complete the capital campaign and allow MSCL House to purchase a second residence to serve the community.
